Blessed Among Us

James Reeb

Civil Rights Martyr (1927-1965)

Reverend James Reeb, a white Unitarian minister from Boston with a wife and four children, had long been committed to racial justice. He was among the first of hundreds of northern clergy who responded to a call for volunteers from the civil rights movement to plan a march from Selma to Montgomery, Alabama. A previous effort, on March 7, had been blocked by mounted state troopers who charge the marchers with whips and clubs as they tried to cross the Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma—a day know as Bloody Sunday.

Reeb arrived two days later on March 9. His stay was short. That very night, as he and two other ministers left a diner, they were accosted by a gang of white men with clubs. One of them struck Reeb in the head, cracking his skull. He died two days later.

President Johnson invoked Reverend Reeb in his speech before a joint session of Congress: “At times history and fate meet in a single time in a single place to shape a turning point in man’s unending search for freedom...So it was last week in Selma, Alabama.”

Soon after, Congress passed the Voting Rights Act. Later that year three men charged with Reeb’s murder were acquitted by an all-white jury.

“James Reeb symbolizes the forces of good will in our nation. He demonstrated the conscience of the nation. He was an attorney for the defense of the innocent in the court of world opinion. He was a witness to the truth that men of different races and classes might live, eat, and work together as brothers.”

Why do we have Stations of the Cross during Lent?

The Way of the Cross, also known as the Stations of the Cross, is a way to pray and meditate on Christ’s sacrifice for us. It is divided into fourteen stations from the time He was condemned to his burial.

The devotion, highly recommended by the Church, was developed during the Crusades when the knights and pilgrims began to follow the route of Christ’s way to Calvary. This devotion spread throughout Europe and was promulgated by the Franciscan friars in the 14th and 15th centuries. Eventually, the Stations of the Cross became an important catechetical tool, and the popularity of this devotion inspired some of the greatest examples of medieval Christian art.

Simple Soup Dinner
& Stations of the Cross

Each Friday during Lent we will have a Simple Soup dinner in the Parish Hall from 6:00-7:00. Following dinner, we will proceed to the sanctuary for Stations of the Cross and Benediction from 7:00-8:00. All are welcome to attend.

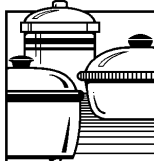

Schedule for ministries to serve.

Please be here early to set up, bring a meatless soup, and clean up.
